VINALHAVEN
SCHOOL
NEWS!

Hello Vinalhaven Parents: This year teachers have requested the basic supplies that your student will need for school, and we've placed those orders. As the result of writing several grants, there will be no cost to you for back-to-school supplies. This includes markers, pencils, notebooks, erasers, scissors, etc. If students come to school with a favorite backpack, we'll make sure other items are on the desk and ready to use.

A few reminders. It's great when younger students have inside shoes, plus a pair of shoes/boots that can be worn outside for recess (even when it's muddy). Also, students of all ages do better in the classroom when snacks and meals from home are healthy. Please avoid sending too many sweets and chips. To begin your search for fresh ideas, check this out: <https://www.100daysofrealfood.com/85-snacks-for-kids-and-adults/>

Housing Committee

UPDATE

The Housing Committee has been in conversation with Penquis about building affordable housing on Vinalhaven.

Their ideal site is the Net Factory/Town Garage area at the end of Main Street. Unfortunately, that site is not yet available for community consideration.

We hope it will be in the future.

There is funding available now for building.

Penquis needs a site of at least one acre with Town water and sewer access.

If anyone, or a group or neighbors, has an area that meets these criteria and is willing to make it available please be in touch with a member of the Housing Committee as soon as possible.

HOUSING COMMITTEE

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED PERSONS

DETERMINATION OF CATEGORICAL EXCLUSION

TO: All Interested Persons

DATE ISSUED: August 9, 2022

As required by Section 6 of the State of Maine Rules Relating to Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund Chapter 230, the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) staff prepared a "Justification for Categorical Exclusion" on behalf of the Vinalhaven Water District of Vinalhaven, Maine to exempt a proposed project from the formal environmental review requirements.

The proposed action is the replacement of approximately 930-ft of water main on Main Street, from High Street to Water Street, on the island of Vinalhaven. Work will include a bridge crossing, services, hydrant(s) and appurtenances. Work is anticipated to begin in Spring 2023.

The Drinking Water Program's review of the proposed actions has indicated that it meets the criteria of "Categorical Exclusion" listed in subsection c (II) of Chapter 230. The project is not likely to have significant effects on the quality of the environment. Specifically, the proposed action is the replacement of existing water mains with new mains in the same general location.

Therefore, a Categorical Exclusion from formal environmental review as provided in Section 6 of the State of Maine Rules Relating to Drinking Water State Revolving Loan Fund Chapter 230 is being granted. This exclusion may be revoked at any time if 1) the project is altered and no longer meets the requirements of a categorical exclusion 2) new evidence shows that serious environmental issues exist or 3) a local, State or Federal law is being or may be violated.

Project documents are on file and are available for public review at the offices of the Vinalhaven Water District and the offices of the Drinking Water Program. Comments relative to this decision may be submitted to the Department of Health and Human Services Drinking Water Program.

The Observer

The treasure that is the Vinalhaven Historical Society was first envisioned in the mid-sixties by folks like Elliott Hall, Ray Sennett, my German teacher, and others and during the intervening sixty or so years has become the repository of all that is and certainly all that was Vinalhaven. The island has an extraordinary history, and it is all either on display or tucked away there at the Museum. I get communication all year long, every year, from folks all over the world who, having just discovered or long known of an island connection, want to discover more about the lives of their ancestors. I refer them immediately to the folks who staff or volunteer at the Historical Society and invariably hear glowing praise and gratitude for the help they received. The Society occupies its huge building, owned by the Town and once a church on the mainland—an extraordinary story in itself—with the understanding that the Society will be responsible for its maintenance. I think, after sixty years of such demonstrative benefit to our community, that the Town should take over the upkeep but that's a subject for another time. Meanwhile, the Historical Society, supported entirely by donations, just makes ends meet and, each year, has to ask for support from those of us it serves so very well. Please do what you can to support and encourage the Vinalhaven Historical Society (POB 339/04863)

Old Fish House Days

Strawberry Fields

Elbridge, known to all here as Buster, remembered his first time as the Washington School, now the Town Office, and once the home of the esteemed Vinalhaven Press. Buster's flash memory is not inside the school but rather lining up outside on the steps waiting to go in. This time came back to him recently when he was in the building with an old classmate. The two had not been there together in decades.

The four-room schoolhouse was built in 1896. In Buster's Day to the left, going in, was kindergarten (Mullen/Davis), and to the right, first-grade (Martin). Directly above kindergarten, via the wide, creaky staircase, second grade (Melin), across from there the royal realm, aka third grade (Doughty). By the time he navigated through all the rooms, Buster felt he had a good grasp of the scholastic basics: he could read, write, add, subtract, multiply, divide, name some of the Maine counties, sing the scales and spell Mississippi forward and backward—so he claims!

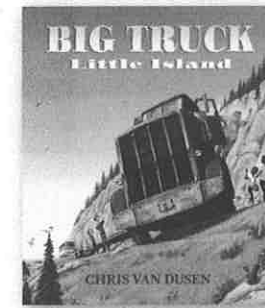

Buster and his old classmate reminisced about Lucille's chocolate milk deliveries to the school which they both enjoyed. Lucille was the island's beloved milk lady, and her cartons were always outside the classrooms in neat little piles for their first-morning break.

From Lucille the two got around to those breaks, recesses, and what ever they could remember about them. There was a merry-go-round and a slide and, in cold weather, usually on a dare, some poor kid would get his or her tongue stuck to one of these fixtures. It was always very dramatic but usually resolved quickly with tongue intact. There was a fire escape chuted connected to the third-grade classroom and it attracted the recess climbers, despite the teachers discouraging them. They all played marbles; the playground was ruled by rapacious gladiators who vanquished the defeated, hapless first graders mostly, to Barton's to buy new marbles so their plunder could continue. (At the store, Mrs. Candage always helped assuage their various states of humiliation and destitution, Buster was a regular.) The last recess memory is the jaunt to nearby Shields Grocery for candy. For the first to get there, Cleo or Wyman would fetch the partitioned, homebuilt, particular shade of green tray from beneath the counter which included all the essential candy groups. Most selections cost a nickel or a dime and after the transaction was completed, and a thank-you was said, all skedaddled back so they had time to enjoy their choice before they had to go back to class.

Weeks later, Elbridge again drifted back again to those years. He thought about Indian summer days there sitting at his desk as the season's late light filtered through the colossal windows, flooding the rooms in ethereal afterglows. The light, in tandem with the views of the pond below, was astounding even to a boy and it caused a strong emotion in him, an epiphany, albeit he then had no language to explain it as such. It was, he knows now, the beginning of his sense of place, something that would profoundly develop as it does for many—if not all here—into a life's observation of the divine wonders, infinite curiosities, and boundless beauty of the skies, coves, and granite ruins of his craggy island home that floats in the waters of the Wabanaki dawn.

Tidbits from the Vinalhaven Historical Society

A lively demonstration was made in town Tuesday night, by the people in celebration of the end of World War II, (V-J Day Aug. 14, 1945[United Kingdom]). Church bells rang, whistles, horns and bon-fires made things lively. Children with noise-makers and grown-ups shouted their joy at the long looked for era of peace as this day marked the end of the war and all its horrors.

Courier-Gazette Aug. 17, 1945

Freeman Leadbetter entertained Joseph Calderwood, Mrs. John Beggs and son Jack, Wednesday, at a chicken dinner. After dinner Mr. Calderwood gave a talk on the settling of Arey's Harbor. Mr. Leadbetter's home (Sunny Acres) was once the home of Mrs. Beggs' grandparents, Benjamin and Betsy Arey.

Courier-Gazette Aug. 14, 1941

Valois Young won the prize for the Donkey Game. Lunch was served. Favors were baskets of candies and Hum-a-phones. The big attraction was the sawdust pudding as each child drew a prize.

August 1, 1944

Twenty-four large polished granite columns were shipped Wednesday, by the B.G.Co. for the Indiana State Capitol. They have started up their polishing mill for the purpose of polishing a part of the Cornish course for the Harlem River Bridge, and they have shipped over 20,000 tons of granite MONTHLY since last March. The Sands Quarry has a capacity for supplying more granite than any granite quarry in the United States.

Pumpkin show, apple pressing and a celebration of the fall season. Show off those pumpkins you've been growing and join in the fun!

August is family fun month!

Expectancy

There's a disturbance in the air a rolling over of heated days to cooling nights, a flying of geese bending of treetops in stronger breezes, the squash and the beans are prolific and tomatoes are dropping like overripe apples. It is not yet September but the sunburnt grass knows it's coming there's a hush in August as if summer has inhaled to its limit and has yet to release a giant sigh it is in this pause I go walking hoping to meet the rain.

With building costs soaring, it's time to review your home insurance.

Houses come in many shapes and sizes – and so does homeowners insurance. With homebuilding costs on the rise, it is vital for you to make sure that your house has replacement cost coverage so that you can rebuild as it was before it was destroyed or purchase brand new items if your old ones are damaged or stolen.

THE STORY OF MAINEWORKS

This documentary premiered at The Maine International Film Festival in July and won the Audience Favorite Award.

The screening is set for Sunday, September 4th @ 7PM at the Vinalhaven School (SHMH). The documentary was made by the same producer/director team that made "Islander" and "Child of Grace". Thomas Hildreth, producer will conduct a 10–15 minute Q & A session directly following the screening. He plans that all proceeds & donations will benefit the VH school.

This documentary is an uplifting portrait of a female American entrepreneur with a social conscience, who gives individuals a second chance to rebuild their lives, and a pathway back to the community and redemption through hard work

R is for the Royal Tar. – In 1836, the Royal Tar was on its way to Boston from St. John, New Brunswick, with a number of passengers and a caravan of circus animals on board. In the midst of a severe gale, while off of Coombs' Head, at the eastern end of the thoroughfare, a passenger came above deck to find that the vessel was on fire. Efforts to get the boat ashore failed as the mainsail caught fire as well, so the passengers had to quickly abandon the ship. Thanks to the efforts of Brown's Head Lighthouse keeper Captain Howland Dyer with his boat, Veto, sixty passengers were saved. All animals perished in what was to become one of the worst maritime disasters on our coast.

Bottle Brigade
 Thanks you for donating your returnable cans and bottles to support Eldercare.

It's a lot of work to sort all the cans and bottles that come in. Here's how you can make our job easier:

- Please, do not put trash or cigarette butts in with your returnables. It's disgusting to sort through!!
- No milk containers, coffee creamer, olive oil bottles or tin cans.
- Not all wine and liquor bottles have a 15¢ sticker or printed notice on the label. Please read the label and check for stickers –if you don't see anything about a 15¢ deposit, put it in the glass recycling bin instead.

Thank you from Bottle Brigade!

If you want to help with sorting, join us on Sundays at 8:30 AM at the barn behind Eldercare. We will train you!

FOX ISLANDS WIND, LLC BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Board of Directors for Fox Islands Electric Cooperative, Inc. (FIEC) is seeking two community members from Vinalhaven and one from North Haven that are interested in serving on the board of directors for Fox Islands Wind, LLC, a nonprofit wholly-owned subsidiary of FIEC.

Eligible candidates must be members of FIEC and at least 18 years of age.

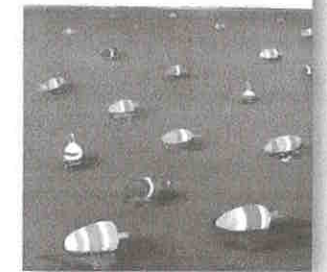

The FIEC Board will consider candidates for appointment at its next meeting on August 24.

If interested, contact Amy W. Turner at (207) 863-4636 or awatson@foxislands.net.

"August is the border between summer and autumn. It is the most beautiful month I know."

Jan Schreiber Poetry Reading TONIGHT!

Peccadilloes
 JAN SCHREIBER

"These poems. . . stay with you long after the book is closed. Schreiber, like Frost, has mastered the art of the unobtrusive iambic line, rhymed and unrhymed. His poems creep up on you like a fog in the East."

-Samuel Jay Keyser, professor of linguistics, MIT

Thur., Aug. 18 @ 7pm

AUGUST 19TH
IS NATIONAL PATIENT ADVOCACY DAY

Word of the Week
Arcanum (är-kā'nəm) noun: 1. A deep secret, a mystery. 2. Arcana, specialized detail or knowledge that is mysterious to the average person.

Fox Islands Electric Cooperative
Retires and Returns $54,400 in Capital Credits to Members

FIEC seeks former members owed refunds.

Between 2020 and 2022 FIEC retired $54,400 in capital credits to its current and former members. Unlike for-profit utilities whose excess revenue goes to shareholders, cooperatives reinvest the revenue in the electric system and return it to its members when the equity is retired.

The Board approved the retirement of equity from the years 1977, 1978, 1981 and 1982. For individuals who had electric service during any of those years, FIEC will credit current members on their July electric bill and mail a check to former members. The former members listed below have out of date contact information.

If you know any person on this list or their rightful heir(s), please have them contact Fox Islands Electric Cooperative at (207) 863-4636 or by email at Office@FoxIslands.net.

If the refunds remain unclaimed, the money will escheat to the State of Maine.
